With an Eye to the Future

Of course, many of us farmers are tempted to spend some of the extra money we're now earning for long-wanted improvements. But how many of us have asked ourselves whether these couldn't wait until after the war, when we could buy so many more things than at present? If you have thought this way, you're probably one of the thousands of farmers who realize how wise it is to invest in Victory Bonds, and are setting aside every extra dollar for the war years period.

Canadian farm income this year is at the highest point ever. For 1944 it is estimated that the gross income to Canadian farmers will be one and three-quarters billion dollars. From finance experts' recommendations, spending wisely and only for operating essentials, setting aside a good proportion as savings, which will provide working capital in the uncertain post-war period. Today, the forward-looking farmers are those who are saving for tomorrow's living and investing in Victory Bonds.

Running through the next script for "Comrades in Arms" are actress Ruth Springfield and army script writer Len Peterson. "Comrades in Arms" had its network debut on October 2, 1944, under the supervision of J. Frank Willis, of

E.L.D. NOTES

WARBLE FLY CAMPAIGN SOON TO BEGIN

At the E.L.D. annual meeting, water users held last spring it was decided that a treatment of all cattle pastured in the E.L.D. be made compulsory.

The most effective time for treatment is from the last week in March to the 1st of May. It is advisable to give two treatments about three weeks apart. Custom charge including powder for one treatment by power sprayers will be—100 head & over 8 cts. per head 50-100 head & over 10 cts. per head Less than 50 head & over 15 cts. per head.

The E.L.D. have three machines. Private owners have offered to cooperate. Stringham Bros. of Duesh, have a new machine which will be available for custom work in the Imperial Colony and Patricia district. Niron Bros. Duesh also have a new machine which will handle cattle from Duesh West and North. Other new sprayers are owned by R.E. Lora and Charles McKinnon in the Bassano district.

It would be well for farmers with small herds to group them in a central spot to take advantage of the lower rates.

by compulsory cooperation of all cattle owners in treating their cattle for warbles can be cleared up. It is estimated the average annual loss from warbles is $5.00 per head. Technicians claim that if their cattle are not treated they will suffer on the range.

Hand treatment with a derris and a brush is just as effective as a power sprayer and is more suitable in districts with small herds.

Derris powder for warble treatment is available at the E.L.D. Headquarters, at

MAKE ALL ARRANGEMENTS FOR TREATING EARLY.

NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Miss Jessie Adams spent Saturday in town and left on evening train for N.C. to visit her sister.

Harold Young of Rosemary, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Adams and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Claus Narum were in town Friday attending to matters of business.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Broadfoot, have as a house guest Private A. (Sandy) McClelland. Private McClelland received wounds while on active service in France and was invited home.

Nick Chitak and Bill Stiller, who are attending college in Calgary were home over the week end visiting their parents and their many friends in Bassano.

"I'd never had any contact with the Red Cross until I was wounded," said Lieut. Steinhilber, a former Kitchener, Ontario boy now convalescing at Westminster Hospital in London, Ontario.

Wounded painfully in the abdomen while with a Canadian division overseas, Lieut. Steinhilber was operated on at a field dressing station by Major Hillman of Winnipeg in the R.C.A.M.C. So serious was his condition that he could not be moved for three weeks. Unable to eat he was given alternate injections of blood and glucose.

"I saw the boys given blood serum," he said. "I watched it pull them out of shock. Undoubtedly many, many lives were saved." His outfit was surrounding a Schickel pocket when he was wounded. At the casualty clearing station, ten miles back of the front, he saw the Red Cross girls dispensing cigarettes and comforts he related.

Although the war in Europe is drawing to a successful conclusion, the work of the Canadian Red Cross will not decrease with the surrender. Rather the responsibilities of the Society will become heavier because considerable help must be given to the peoples of the liberated countries who have suffered so much during the period of occupation.

Relief authorities estimate that there are over 1,000,000 persons destitute and homeless in the free areas. Many of them are suffering from disease and their children are victims of malnutrition. The Canadian Red Cross, along with other relief agencies, have shipped clothing and food to these people, but more and more must be sent if the real victims of war, the civilians, are to be saved to help build a better world.

In raising the money for the relief in the liberated countries, the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund is collaborating with the Red Cross so that the maximum amount for this work can be obtained as quickly as possible. And by adopting this system, one less national appeal will be made to the Canadian people this year.

In addition to helping the liberated nations, the Red Cross must continue to provide comforts for our freed boys in the field and in hospitals. It will be some time after the surrender before our prisoners of war can be repatriated, so the flow of food parcels must go on. And it will be some time before our prisoners in the Far East will be free.

The Red Cross Blood Donor Service must be continued, for as long as there are Canadian troops in action there will be a need for life-saving blood serum. Here again the Pacific theatre of war cannot be overlooked.

As in all there is no situation that arises this year that will lessen the responsibilities of the Canadian Red Cross. Rather the responsibilities are more likely to be greater than ever.

PASSING

And The PERMANENT

Crime & Church Attendance

"Church attendance is a vital factor in the nation's crime prevention program," says J. Edgar Hoover. "While serving as director of the F.B.I. during the past twenty years, I have been profoundly impressed with the fact that the church-going people are the most substantial group of citizens in the nation. Church attendance and crime appear to be like oil and water—they do not mix."

Suffering in Holland

The people of three Protestant lands still suffer the pains of Nazi bondage—Denmark, Norway, and the most of Holland. Don't forget to pray for them. The Netherlands Prime Minister has written: "By unopposed trials of murder, robbery, arson, and destruction, the enemy threatens the people of the Netherlands with a terrible fate. Famine is imminent. May I appeal for special prayer of the Almighty imploring His aid and succor in the present plight of many millions of Dutch."

Peace Prize

Unclaimed

The Nobel Peace Prize, unawarded since 1938, will go unawarded for 1944. For six years it has been unclaimed while war has swept the earth. No man has ever been able to find a peaceful solution to the world's problems. Christ has the answer—"peace through the blood of His cross," whereby the Father desires to "reconcile all things unto Himself." Col. 1:20 But the world rejects that peace plan, and as long as men refuse to be reconciled to God they cannot be reconciled to each other. Only by new birth can men become children of God and thus brothers one of another. World brotherhood is possible in no other way.

ten thousand chaplain.

As of Dec. 7, 1944, there were 9,821 chaplains in the armed services.

2,445 in the Army and 2,276 in the Navy and Marine Corps. By this time the number is over 10,000. If every chaplain were a faithful preacher of the gospel, what a harvest of souls there might be—but the percentage of faithful preachers is probably no greater in the chaplaincy than in civilian life.

Palestine economic Bureau

On Jan. 1, 1945, a new bureau was opened in New York by the Zionist Organization of America to carry out the "expanded program for American Jewish participation in the economic development of Jewish Palestine." Known as the Palestine Economic Bureau it will provide reliable information to those who want to invest in Palestine. By all indications, great things will be done in Palestine during the postwar period.

Liquor's "Patriotism"

The American Business Men's Research Foundation of Chicago produces many fine cartoons that show up the liquor business in its proper light. In one beer laron is boasting that "one year's taxes paid (collected by the liquor industry) could buy twenty battleships." A poor wife man, replies, "Yes, and the money the people spent on liquor could buy eighty battleships—and everything but you would be better off!"

Family Devotions

An article by O.K. Armstrong, a member of the Missouri House of Representatives, tells how family prayers are conducted in his home each day. Appearing in the Reader's Digest, it should be read by many people. Let us hope it will inspire many parents to follow his example. Mr. Armstrong says that when guests are in the home they are invited to take part. One guest, a criminal court judge remarked after devotions, "If all families had prayers I wouldn't have time to do."

Liberty to the Captives

The whole world of free men is rejoicing over the liberation of so many captives in the Philippines. Let us hope that during the long days of confinement some at least have thought seriously regarding eternity and will now live different lives. A great change came over many who were interned in France. Some who had never darkened the door of a church for twenty, thirty even forty years attended gospel services in order to have something to do, and quite a number were saved. In one of the camps two young men, neither of them yet twenty-one, yielded to God and heard a clear call to serve on the mission field, and to-day they thank God for ever letting them be in a concentration camp!

Socialism out of the Question

The Lord did not utter these words to make it so; that is, there was no element of predetermination in His utterance. But He spoke these words because His foreknowledge enabled Him to know that it would be so. And now that He has uttered this prediction, it will be so for He is a God that cannot lie. Hence a socialism that would promise a state of affairs contrary to the prediction of Christ is doomed to failure. The word of God will be fulfilled, and that in spite of our wishes or efforts to the contrary. It is something like the proposal of the Jews not to put Christ to death on the feast of the Passover, which was predicted by any of the members of the household. Again no particular reason is advanced in the Bible for this peculiar custom. We leave for this peculiar custom to Christ, again refer us readers to Christ, "The Passover."

He is the Word, made flesh according to John 1, and we as the household of Christ are to be partakers. We cannot and should not take one part of the word and leave out portions which may or may not appeal to our understanding or reason, or in other words to our spiritual palate. The whole word of God must be believed in and it must be believed in by all of us. There are certain passages which seem to some of us rather dark and unexplained, and we are tempted to resort to higher criticism, which means denying the truth of the word, but if we do not understand there are others who do. Meanwhile we may partake of that which we do understand and leave to God, and the more enlightened ones the

How to Punish HITLER

It is reported that in Columbus, Ohio, a high school essay contest on "What to Do With Hitler After the War" was won by a 16 year old Negro girl, whose thesis was that the most fitting retribution would be to put him in a black skin and require him to live out the rest of his life in America!

Monty's Tribute to Chaplains

Field Marshal Montgomery says that his chaplains mean as much to him as his artillery in winning this war.

The HEBREW PASSOVER

Under special permission, reprinted from a book distributed by The Redeemed Hebrew, Box 603, Birmingham, New York. Price 35c. Related by Abraham Silverstein.

The lamb was to be eaten by all. No one in the household was excused from partaking of the meat of the lamb. True, there were certain parts that appealed to the palate of some, but were not preferred by others, but the whole lamb was to be consumed and all had to eat thereof no matter of which part of the lamb was selected by any of the members of the household. Again no particular reason is advanced in the Bible for this peculiar custom. We leave for this peculiar custom to Christ, again refer us readers to Christ, "The Passover."

He is the Word, made flesh according to John 1, and we as the household of Christ are to be partakers. We cannot and should not take one part of the word and leave out portions which may or may not appeal to our understanding or reason, or in other words to our spiritual palate. The whole word of God must be believed in and it must be believed in by all of us. There are certain passages which seem to some of us rather dark and unexplained, and we are tempted to resort to higher criticism, which means denying the truth of the word, but if we do not understand there are others who do. Meanwhile we may partake of that which we do understand and leave to God, and the more enlightened ones the portions we do not understand. The Israelite was not asked to eat all of the lamb but all were asked to eat it so that all of the lamb was eaten by the whole family, and if there were yet enough in the family to consume it, then the Master of the house was to invite outsiders to help them eat it until it was all gone, but the bones. The remains were then to be burned. In many of the homes, Christ is worshipped by only one or two in the family while the rest seem to recline on the faith and worship of the "church goers." But the day will come when it shall be revealed that only those who have actually partaken of the meat of the lamb will be saved, and those who have not will experience great disappointment. The father cannot be saved on what the mother is doing or eating. What she eats of the Passover Lamb is just enough to save her soul. But cannot eat for both; the parents may never expect to see the Kingdom of God just because they permit the children to go to Sunday School and there eat of the lamb. The parents must eat for themselves. Each one for himself, is the slogan of the Passover lamb, and again each one for himself, is the word for those who wish to be saved. May God help us to see the great truth of the hidden meaning of this Passover Lamb. And then, another very important point, was that all of the lamb was to be eaten that night. Again, we confess, we know not why this was emphasized. And so we will again, apply this to our own lives in Christ. In these "days of lambs," there are thousands of teachers who have declared certain portions of the Word as incredible and without divine authority. Then the five books of Moses mean nothing; the miracles are merely stories without foundation; the books of the Old Testament, they say, were not written by their alleged authors; the writings of John are hallucinations of a distorted mind. They are willing to nibble at the lamb, but refrain from eating it wholly. But the Passover Lamb was to be consumed as it was, wholly—only the skeleton to be left unbroken. There are indeed many things in the Bible which we cannot grasp which we cannot understand. And so were there quite a good many parts of the Passover Lamb, which the Jews preferred not to eat, but nevertheless God demanded that the whole lamb was to be eaten and if the meat was too large for the family, then the neighbors were to be invited and help eat and finish the lamb. So it is with our Bible. While we cannot understand many passages in the Bible, and while it is too big for us to comprehend we nevertheless must believe it wholly, and invite our neighbors to help us in such cases. Just because we cannot understand a portion, it does not mean that it is not true.

HAVE THE JEWS A LAMB NOW ON THEIR PASSOVER NIGHT?

And now we come to a part of our study of the Passover, which is perhaps as important as any of the points mentioned before and it merits our special attention. The Jews observe the Passover in every respect as it was observed in the days of the Messiah, except for the most important point—the Passover Lamb. They have no longer a Passover Lamb. It is curious to observe that since the Christian Era, this lamb has somehow disappeared from the table.

Again THE RED CROSS ASKS YOUR HELP TO HEAL A WAR-TORN WORLD GIVE!

Wherever the great destroyer, War, has passed, pain, suffering and sorrow follow in its wake. Young men on the battlefield or in hospitals are tormented by sickness or wounds. Little children, mothers, aged people are homeless, hungry, cold. In every theatre of war, whole cities lie in ruins. Millions are suffering the pangs of disease, starvation and dire want.

So the Red Cross will continue to reach out a helping hand. It must heal and comfort our own sick and wounded. It must send food, clothing, medical supplies to war-torn lands.

And the Canadian Red Cross will answer this urgent call. For the Canadian Red Cross is you and your friends and your neighbors, and all the good folks up and down this fair Dominion of ours. You will send help—yes, life itself—to the sickened people of other lands. You will stand staunchly behind your Red Cross, and—GIVE!

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

The government of Canada is the country's biggest employer. It has 145,000 people working for it, and pays out in salaries $17 and three quarters million every month. (It has ballooned during the war; in 1939 it had only 60,000 employees.)

There are 18 different departments, as well as a great many boards, commissions, committees and publicly owned corporations. The departments are Agriculture, External Affairs, Finance, Fisheries, Justice, Health and Welfare, Labour, Mines and Resources, and Munitions and Supply, National Defence, National War Services, the Post-Office, Public Works, Reconstruction, State, Trade and Commerce, Transport and Veterans' Affairs.

This vast organization carries on far-flung activities. It operates a railroad, a string of hotels, an airline, a national radio setup, a film studio, and a world-famous mounted police force.

Through it, too, the people of Canada are putting up a war effort that is second to none in proportion to the country's resources, population, and productive capacity.

Dormancy in Seeds

Seeds of some crops will germinate within a few days after harvest. Others remain dormant for some weeks or even months. Seeds of many common weeds may remain dormant in the soil for years, despite the fact that conditions of moisture, temperature and aeration may be suitable for germination. Farmers often have reason to wish that wheat and barley seeds would remain dormant much longer than they do, because losses from sprouting in the stock and swaths are considerable. Longer spells of wet weather are usually required to induce oats to germinate in the stock.

The results of a germination test should indicate the percentage of live seeds capable of producing vigorous seedlings. If some seeds remain dormant the germinating ability of the sample will be underestimated. For this reason, all properly equipped laboratories subject seed samples to a pre-chilling treatment which usually 'breaks' the dormancy.

This year, due to peculiar weather conditions, a good many samples, particularly of oats, have remained dormant longer than usual and pre-chilling has not always completely overcome the dormancy. After the usual germination test, dead seeds can usually be distinguished from dormant ones. After finding a good many dormant seeds, we selected a number of samples and prolonged the pre-chilling period. The germination was increased, sometimes by a wide margin. Our patrons have, of course, all been informed.

Farmers who have home germination tests earlier in the season and obtained poor results should retest.

WINGS OVER CANADA

By Russell L. Gibson and Robert Reeds

W.T. Piper, the world's largest manufacturer of light planes told the Ontario Air Conference, which drew hundreds of delegates from municipalities all over Canada to a two-day meeting in Hamilton last week that people should not expect drastic overnight changes in post-war planes. "Aside from larger motors and other refinements there have been few other radical changes in air designs in the last few years," he said.

Piper now 64 learned to fly at 30, when he first became an aircraft manufacturer.

Newly developed engines for light planes were more dependable than automobile engines and far more dependable than large ones used on combat planes, he said.

"Present storage rates and gasoline costs for planes are far too high," he said. "When they come down, bringing flying into pocket-book range of more people.

"Nobody knows what this war has developed in the way of radio and electronics," he said. "When they can spot the exact location of a submarine miles away in the darkness under the water there is no reason why they cannot give us something which will bring planes through poor weather for safe landings when visibility is limited.

"If aviation is going anywhere, we must have fewer regulations," he said, outlining many rules which he claimed limited the opportunities for private flying.

"Almost a quarter of the space in our cities is devoted to transportation—on foot and in cars—but none to aircraft," he said. "The average home in the average little town has more money invested in a spare guest room than in needed to build a small airport," he said.

"A telephone is no good if no one else has one. One airport is useless without others to fly to."

Charging that there was too much control of air traffic, Mr. Piper stated that if ground traffic were similarly controlled, "you could not travel from Boston to New York in two months."

Canada, with territories greater than the United States and fewer roads would find the airplane of tremendous value.

"The big airliner can't go into small towns," he said. Feeder lines, he believed would be secondary in importance to non-scheduled private flying. "Private flying will eventually be the cheapest way to go," he added.

"It took a $25,000 investment in a railroad to provide one job. A far smaller investment would be this in aviation."

Russell L. Gibson, coauthor of this column and President of Cub Aircraft of Hamilton, introduced Mr. Piper as the man who manufactured the first planes to land in Sicily, Italy, France and many of the islands of the Pacific. He was referring to the Cub Grasshopper artillery-spotting planes, which has taken off from the decks of landing barges and flown from cow pastures and clearings all over
